

BIO

Meet Jensine Reeder, President and CEO of The Source Unlimited, LLC. The Source Unlimited is a consulting firm dedicated to connecting small businesses, nonprofit organizations, and corporations with the resources needed to thrive professionally. This dedication is evident in their tagline, Making Limitless Connections. Her work experience has afforded her the opportunity to manage a network of over 222 nonprofit programs, further increasing her skills in the Information Technology realm. The Source Unlimited offers IT consulting services to ensure data collection procedures are efficient and are accompanied by effective workflow processes. This enables organizations to allow their data to “tell their stories” and positions the organization for additional funding opportunities.

While Jensine’s resume boasts of impressive skills and experience, her biggest accomplishment is her life journey and story of overcoming poverty. Jensine has no qualms about sharing her story and how she had to search within herself to find her passion and purpose. It is through her experience and strength to overcome that fuels her motivation to help others. Through Elevation Coaching™, she embarks on a journey of self-discovery, self-care, and self-love to uplift and give others a different perspective of their life and career.

Much of her inspiration comes from her children and a desire to provide a legacy for them. During that journey, she discovered more details of her Afro-Indigenous heritage. This is the inspiration behind her creation of Goddess Wraps by Jensine™. Her vibrant satin-lined headwraps are handmade with beautiful Ankara African print fabrics, that provide protection for your hair while “looking fabulous”!

Working with Jensine will prove to be an uplifting and positive experience, as told by her past clients. Schedule a discovery session today to see how she can partner with you and/or your organization in Making Limitless Connections.
